TANDEMS OUT FOR A DRIVE.

ANNUAL FALL TRIP OF THE NEW-YORK CLUB.

ALL CIRCUMSTANCES HELP TO MAKE THE AFFAIR MOST SUCCESSFUL-LIST OF THOSE

WHO TOOK PART The New-York Tardem Club had its annual fall drive yesterday, and the smart traps with their proud drivers probably never drove away from the Plaza under better conditions or before so large a crowd of spectators. But the people did not as-semble there because of the tandem parade. The day was so perfect, and there was so much to see and to hear at all places where people are apt to cohgregate, the atmosphere was so loaded with football enthusiasm, that the Piaza naturally be-came a congregating point. A great Yale flag flut-tered from the northern staff on the Piaza Hotel. another almost as large hung from an upper win dow on the Fifth-ave, side of the Vanderbilt palace deep-blue streamer with a large "Y" covered the name of the Netherlands Hotel, a big Princeton banner waved from the Alexander house, and on ill sides the colors of the contesting college grants tere displayed. Coaches, backs, omnibuses, vehicles of all kinds, each decorated with blue or formed a continuous procession past the roup of big hotels, and from every party came yells which gave one an idea of what they would be in a few hours, when one or the other party would return over the same course with victory to ate their voices.

Amid all this excitement the tandem teams were aking ready to start, and even the owners of the drive.

Charles Pfizer, jr., the president of the club, was not present. The first to arrive was John H. Schults, jr., with a red-wheeled covert-cart. He had as a guest G. F. McCandliss, His horses are known as Jack and Shamrock.

Robert S. McCreery came next, drivin, Mingledge and Majestic to a handsome red and white covert-cart.

and Majestic to a nanosane cart.

Then came Lemuel E. Wells, driving the bay geidings Glaucus and Milton; Frank D. Beard, with Mr. Phillips as guest, in a crimson cart, drawn b, Cyclone and Lordship. J. Robinson Beard, with Burton Mansfield as his guest, in the Whitechapel cart which was imported in 1876 by Mr. Mansfield drawn by Peacock and Guardsman, and Emil Pfizer, with his brother, G. A. MOUNT VERNON.

The Mount Vernon Musical Society gave on Friday fight a concert that has never been excelled. If equalled, in this city. At least that was the verdict of the six or seven hundred who received invitations and got seats or standing room in the Raptist Church, where the concert was given. The society is a volunteer organization. It is supported by pri vate subscription, and its chorus is composed of forty sopranos, thirty-two altos, eleven tenors and twenty-four bassos. It showed on Friday night, by the rounding and the melody of voices, etc., that the singers had developed qualities almost equal to ofessionals under the 'raining and instruction of Professor Alfred Hallam, who was elected conductor. Mayor Lewis is the president of the society and its Board of Directors are active and influentic citizens. The society was assisted by the Meister Glee Singers, of New-York, and Louis Blumenberz violoncello. The concert opened with "Unfold, Ye Portals," from "The Redemption," by the chorus followed by "Benedictus." In chorus, with a so-prano solo by Mrs. Thomas W. Davis. The other features were a tenor solo, "The Sallor's Grave," by John M. Fulton, who was recalled, as was also the Blumenberg, who responded to an encore with the Last Rose of Summer," by special request, the Meister Glee Singers were recalled repeatedly. NEEDS OF THE TENEMENT CHILDREN.

JACOB A. RIIS REPORE THE NEW-YORK BRANCH

legiate Alumnae held its fall meeting yesterday afternoon in the Women's University Club rooms, in Forty-fourth-st. A motion was carried, prowiding that the president, treasurer, vice-president and secretary should be elected alternately for terms of two years each.

The president, Mrs. John Collier, then spoke of the persistent disregard of the law compelling employers to provide seats for the saleswomen in their stores. She mentioned the bill in the Lexis ture which was framed with especial regard to this and other matters of importance to working women, and asked the members whether or not they wished to send resolutions to Albany expresgive of their hearly sympathy with the medement

It was decided at once that a committee be ap-pointed to draw up and forward such resolutions when the Legislature meets.

This ended the regular business of the meeting, and after two barytone solos from Regnar Kidde, which were admirably sung, Mrs. Collier introduced Jacob A. Rilis, author of "How the Other Haif Lives."

Jacob A. Rils, author of "How the Other Half Lives."

The burden of Mr Rils's theme was the crying need for more public schools in this city. He took for a text the case of the young boy-murderer, Jacob Beresheim, giving a forceful description of the surroundings and evi influences that have been his during the fifteen years of his life. "You will find it is cheaper in every way." said Mr. Rils, "to send a boy to school than to prison." He spoke also of the necessity for playgrounds and parils in the tenerient districts. Children must have some outlet for their animal spirits, he said. "There is machinery provided," said the speaker, "for the construction of these much-needed improvements, but it wants some one to set it going and to keep the wheels olded. You women have rolded how much influence you might and do exert when you take hold of a subject of this sort. You will learn in time as I haver that persistence is the only quality which will accomplish results."

The audionce seemed heartily in accord with Mr. Rils's remarks, for he was warmly applauded as he ended his address.

COTTON MARKETS STRONG.

A DECIDED RISE HERE AND ABROAD. PORT RECEIPTS HARDLY MORE THAN HALF THE

EXPORTS YESTERDAY-BULLISH NEWS FROM THE SOUTH.

further evidence of a collapsing movement. The proportions of the shrinkage can be appreciated by the statement that the port receipts yesterday were not much more than half what they were on the caresponding day in 1893, when the crop was 7,500,000 bales. In exact figures, the port receipts yestering were 25,327 bales, against 55,632 last year, and 53,588 n 1893. The exports yesterday were 46,000 pales, or nearly double the receipts at the ports. "The Chron-lele's" weekly compilation showed that the world's visible supply of American cotton, which on Sep-tember 1 exceeded the supply of the corresponding lay last year by 511,000 bales, has now shrunk to 232,770 bales less than the supply at this time last year. The visible supply of all kinds is 213,770 bules less than at this time last year. The amount of cotton in sight on this crop is now 3,249,876 bales, against 4,463,513 last year, a falling off thus far of 1,214,660 bales below last year. The bulls say it should not be forgotten that for weeks the present crop was rushed to market to get the benefit of the high price then prevailing, or the comparison would be much stronger.

On these bullish indications as to the shortage of the crop prices advanced 2-64d, to 3-64d, in Liverpool, and closed steady. On the New-York Cotton Exchange quotations advanced 12 to 14 points and closed firm On the curb 2 points were bld over the official clo March selling at 8.49. The New-Orleans market followed the rise here. That market is still ten points above a parity with this market, however.

Receipts at the chief interior towns were scanty as they have been on any day recently. Houston got 6,618 baies, against 11,215 last year, and expects on Monday 7,600, against 11,413 last year. Memphis received 2,551 baies, against 5,496 last year; Cincinnati got 1.007 bales, against 2,309 last year. The Southern spot markets were generally to 1-16c, higher. New-Oricans sold 5,800 bales at unchanged figures, and Memphis 3,550 at unchanged figures. Galveston sold 763 bales at Mc. advance, Mobile 250 at 16c advance, Savannah 305 at 1-16c, advance, Norfolk, Augusta and New-York showed 1-16c, advance. Liverpol spot sales were 16,000 bale which was considered very good for a half-holiday. "Bradstreet's" Galveston correspondent says that the popular estimate of the size of the crop of Texas is under 1,500,000 bales. "The Chronicle's" correspondents throughout the cotton belt telegraph that picking has been completed in many sections and is approaching completion in others.

New-Orleans expects to receive 12,000 to 16,000 bales on Monday, against 22,3 6 on the corresponding day last year. The movement last year, with day last year. which Monday's receipts must be considered, was 70.286 bales.

Port stocks are now 969,253, against 1,138,487 last year, a decrease of 169,000 bales. Continued good trade reports are coming from Manchester, while the financial and political troubles and gold exports, say the builts, do not increase the size of the crop by a single bale, and it every speculator in South African mining bubbles bursts he and his family will have to wear cotton clothes instead of woollen. Bear arguments all seemed to be dead as last year bird's nests yeste day. The private advices regarding the crop situation in the South received yesterday contained th following. Taken in connection with the fact that killing frost did not touch some of the richest coton lands of Texas until December 25 last year, the ton lands of Texas until December 28 last year, the present situation is not particularly tearlish:

New-Orleans, Nov. 23.—Temperature 22 above zero Palestine. Tex., 12 above zero Amarillo, not conducive further growing of cotton. Texas Government reports heavy rains in East and Central Texas this morning. Exporters are particularly anxious to get cotton in New-Orleans.

New-Orleans, Nov. 23.—Advices of most unquestionable character received from Tensas Parish, largest parish in Louisiana, which raised $5.000 bales last year, say the following: "Crop in this section daily grows shorter. Am sure Tensas crop will not exceed 90 per cent of last year, and think her crop a little better than her neighbors." This has reference to the large river parishes of Concordia, Madison, East Carroll, Point Coupée, which, with Tensas, raised over 20,000 bilest ast year.

Goliad, South Texas, Nov. 23.—Ord mill closed for season; unable to get seed.

Dalias, Tex., Nov. 23.—Bitter cold norther arrived yesterday afternoon. Cotton dead as a door nati. Flowle, Tex., Nov. 23.—Receipts 2,000 this year; last year 4,000. Expect 1,200 more, against last year 8,000.

New-Orleans, Nov. 23.—Secretary Hester's weekly

New-Orleans, Nov. 22.—Secretary Hester's weekly New-Orleans Cotton Exchange statement shows a failing off in the movement into sight compared with the seven days ending this date last year in round figures of 10,000 bales, with the same days in 1992 of 61,000. For the twenty-two days of November, the total shows a loss from lest year of 622,000, from the year before last of 280,000, and from 1892 of 132,000.

SHERIFF TAMSEN'S TRIAL

COLONEL FELLOWS INFORMS THE GOVERNOR THAT THE CASE WILL BE CALLED ON DECEMBER 2.

Albany, Nov. 23.-District-Attorney Fellows, of New-York County, has informed Governor Morton that he has made arrangements with Judge Allison, New-York Court of General Sessions, to put Sheriff Tamsen on trial on the first Monday in December. Colonel Fellows some weeks ago called on the Governor with a view to securing an extraordinary term of Oyer and Terminer in New-York County to enable him to clear off the criminal locket, but the matter has lately been in abeyance. Since the receipt of the charges against the Sheriff at the Executive Chamber the Governor has inquired of Colonel Fellows when he proposed to try the indictment which was found two months ago against the same officer, and the District-Attorney has accordingly arranged for a speedy trial. In any event, the hearing of the charges made to the Governor could not possibly be brought on for several weeks.

Acting District-Attorney Bartow S. Weeks announced yesterday that the District-Attorney's office had received a letter from Governor Morton requesting that the pending indictment against Sheriff Tamsen by disposed of as speedily as possible Mr. Weeks and Assistant District-Attorney Georg

It was arranged that the trial of Tamsen should take place as announced above. District-Attorney Feilows will prosecute the case for the People, assisted by Assistant District-Attorneys Weeks and Battle Sheriff Tamsen will be defended by General Benjamin F. Tracy and Edward Grosse.

The Sheriff was indicted on August 1 for omitting to perform various acts and duties, by which the escape from Ludlow Street Jail of the postoffice robbers, Ailen, Killoran and Russell was contributed to and assisted. In case of conviction the penalty is one year's imprisonment or $500 fine, or both.

A QUEER ITALIAN PAIR.

HE WANTED TO BE MARRIED AT THE CITY HALL. LUT THE WOMAN OBJECTED TO HIS PLAN.

A man and a woman, both of whom appeared to e in a state of mental excitement, mounted the City Hall steps shortly after 1 p. m. yesterday, and while the man gesticulated wildly and seemed to be and murmur incoherent protestations. A stream of people, released from work for their Saturday halfholiday, were hurrying across the plaza fronting the City Hall, most of them in the direction of the Bridge and elevated station, and a large crowd was soon collected about the singular couple

Henry Van Pelt, one of the managers of the City

Hall Marriage Bureau, rushed out to see what the matter was. With the assistance of Frank Bufano, the Italian interpreter connected with the Bureau Mr. Van Pelt learned that the pair were Italians and that the man had brought the woman to th Municipal Building intent on marrying her. The man's name was found to be Pietro Rey, and the woman's Lucia Vaplola. Rey proposed to perform the marriage ceremony himself by "declarationé," he called it, while Lucia declared her repugnance to such an arrangement. The man acted so strangely that countrymen of his who were in the crowd said that he was crazy. The woman smelled strongly of liquor. Several Aldermen, including Mesors. Wines, Goodwin and Lantry, who happene to be witnesses of the unusual scene, refused invitations to perform a marriage ceremony.

Officer Capper, of the City Hall Park police, finally succeeded in landing the couple in the subcellar of the City Hall Police Station, and the mob cellar of the City Hail Police Station, and the mob gradually dispersed. The man said that both he and the woman he wanted to marry had come re-cently from Italy, and were residents of Rome. When Rey discovered that Bufano, the Marriage Bureau Interpreter, was a Neapolitan, the excited Roman, who asserted superior rank, gave Bufano a violent shove, shouting as he did so, "Brigando!" It is due to Bufano to say that he vehemently re-sented the imputation that he had been a brigand. The man and woman were subsequently allowed to go.
